

Introducing the Idaho Film Fair (IFF): a two-day celebration of cinema, creativity, and community. Whether you're a seasoned filmmaker, a movie buff, or just starting your journey behind the lens, IFF is your place to connect, learn, and shine.

Hosted by Jack's Urban Meeting Place (JUMP) in Boise, Idaho and growing out of the beloved Dreamweaver Film Festival, IFF is packed with:

- Panels
- Q&As
- Workshops
- Screenings (Feature Film on Friday Night, Idaho Made Short Films on Saturday night)
- Networking opportunities
- Family-friendly activities
- Food & drinks
- Seminars & presentations
- Interactive installations
- Short films on the giant Jump-o-tron outside (firepit and warm drinks included)
- Teen-focused workshops & challenges
- Sessions for educators
- Student panels & screenings
- The CapEd Movie Trailer Contest for teens

WANT TO BRING SOMETHING TO IFF?

We're looking for collaborators to bring their creativity, expertise, and energy to the Idaho Film Fair! Whether you're a filmmaker, educator, artist, or community leader—there's a place for you. Here are just some of the ways you can get involved:

LEAD A SESSION

- Panel discussions
- Q&As with filmmakers or experts in the field
- Seminars or lectures
- Workshops or breakout sessions

HOST A WORKSHOP

- Hands-on filmmaking techniques
- Editing, sound design, or cinematography
- Acting, directing, or screenwriting
- DIY gear or special effects
- Art production

SHOWCASE YOUR WORK

- Film screenings (shorts, features, experimental)
- Live content creation or livestreams
- Student or youth film showcases

CREATE AN EXPERIENCE

- Art installations or interactive exhibits
- Demonstrations (e.g. dolly zoom, lighting setups)
- Family-friendly activities (crafts, stop-motion stations, movie poster art, trivia, etc)
- Challenges (e.g. stop motion, 24-hour film races)

ENGAGE THE COMMUNITY

- Host a table or display
- Share your mission, tools, or resources
- Connect with educators and students
- Offer mentorship or networking opportunities

WHY COLLABORATE WITH IFF?

Joining the Idaho Film Fair as a collaborator isn't just about sharing your work—it's about becoming part of a growing creative movement in the Treasure Valley. Here's what you'll gain:

BRAND VISIBILITY & EXPOSURE

- Showcase your work, mission & goals to a diverse audience of filmmakers, educators, students, and families. Each collaborating organization gets a free promotional display table for the entire event in a high traffic area
- Logo placement in event promotions, website, and printed materials
- Mentions in press releases and promotional materials
- On screen recognition in social media posts, screenings, panels, etc

PROVEN REACH

- A similar event that activated the entire building at JUMP (Illumibrate) drew over 8,000 attendees in Feb. 2025
- Our last film festival welcomed 350+ participants
- We are collaborating with The CapEd Credit Union to bring the 15th Annual CapEd Movie Trailer Contest to the event. This brought in 200+ teens from across Idaho to the Overland Park Cinemas yearly.

NETWORKING & COMMUNITY

- Meet fellow creatives, industry professionals, and potential collaborators
- Build relationships with educators, students, and community leaders
- Join a supportive network that values storytelling and innovation

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

- Share your expertise through panels, workshops, and presentations
- Gain experience leading sessions and engaging with live audiences
- Learn from others in the field and discover new tools and techniques

CREATIVE IMPACT

- Inspire the next generation of filmmakers and artists
- Help shape a festival that reflects Idaho's unique creative voice
- Contribute to a vibrant, inclusive, and growing arts community
